

Mari Andrews
Artist Statement

“... Imitating Nature in her Manner of Operation”
St. Thomas Aquinas

Embracing gravity is part of life on earth, and probably a few other places in the universe. Gravity is a dominant principle in most sculpture. I have not employed its attribute to full measure in my studio practice, except in certain works. This show contains works that embody the gravitational pull.

Objects known for their weight and objects resting inside other objects by force of gravity are included in this exhibition.